Come full CIRCLE!

At The Foundation, we've seen so many people step forward as innovative philanthropists — putting their hearts, minds, experiences, expertise and passion into their giving — and coming full circle with what they care about most to make big things happen. These questions were designed to inspire you to think about what passionate philanthropy means to YOU.

Use these questions to explore what matters most to you in our world, and to spark conversations with your family and like-minded friends and colleagues.
